

Data Center Observatory

Leak Detection Schematic

- The leak detection system monitors the underfloor space in the DCO for water leakage
- A leak will cause the monitoring system to raise an alarm and display a distance measurement
- Using this map, administrators can close in on the affected location and investigate
- Alerts to leak and cable problems are tied in with the APC environmental sensing equipment, providing remote monitoring capability